Cooper, freshman advisor, Miss Ruth Millett, Francis Sloniker, president of Student Senate, and Vernon Green. Ford Bradley and Mildred Clardy met the guests at the door of Social Hall.

Frances Shively acted as general chairman. Assisting her were Margaret Humphreys, Jean Patrick and Frances Todd.

The tea table was set with silver service. Yellow tapers were used and yellow fall flowers in a silver vase formed the centerpiece.

Jean Montgomery, Irma Walker, Sarah Frances Rowlett, and Helen Kramer poured. Assisting in entertaining were Miss Margaret Stevenson, Virgil Yates, Albert Mix, Laurence Phelps, Velma Cass, Dean Taylor and Martha Mae Holmes. Those who assisted in serving were Francis Segesman, Nadine Wooderson, Martha Venable, Warren Crow, Evelyn Urton, Marceline Cooper, and Charlotte Leet.

Music was furnished by Helen Gaugh, Morris Yadon, and Mary Frances Young.

The president of the class last year will preside over the meeting until a new president is elected.

The practice teaching department announces that all students eligible to do practice teaching should make application at once, as there will not be opportunity for teaching during the winter and spring quarters for everyone.

Members of the Northwest Missourian staff are asked to be present at a meeting to be held Monday morning, Sept. 24, at eight o'clock.

Plans for Mask and Gavel club have not yet been made. Anyone interested in Speech and Dramatics see Mr. Kelly.

All students who plan to major in Kindergarten Primary Education are invited to attend a tea to be given by the Association for Childhood Education in Social Hall, Monday, September 24, at 4 o'clock.

President Lamkin Names Committees

President Lamkin has named the College Faculty Committees for 1934-35. The chairman of the various committees are as follows: Admission, Advanced Standing and Classification, Mr. Kinnaird; Alumni Relations, Miss James; Assemblies and Entertainments, Mr. Velie; Athletics, Mr. Dieterich; Discipline, Mr. Cook; Library, Miss K. Franken; Museum and Exhibits, Miss DeLuce; Program and Rooms, Mr. Kinnaird; Public Relations, Dr. Mehuis; Publications, Dr. Painter; Recommendations, Mr. Phillips; Student Affairs, Miss Stephenson; Student Employment, Dr. Mehuis; and Student Organizations, Mr. W. T. Garrett.

Senior Class Elects Officers For Year

The senior class met after Assembly Wednesday and elected the following officers: Kurby Bovard, president; Fritz Cronkite of St. Joseph, vice-president; and Louis Groh of St. Joseph, secretary and treasurer. Virgil Yates of Bethany and Gerald Stigall of Henrietta are nominees for the long term membership to the Student Senate.

Faculty Women Vacation in Far Away Places

To you they are associated with class rooms and text books, but when vacation rolls around College faculty members scatter in all directions, some to study, some to visit new places, and others to just "vacation". Several of the faculty women found unusual things to do this year.

Miss Olive DeLuce studied in New York City, both at Columbia University and the Art Student League. She did portrait painting with Mr. Kantor. Later Miss DeLuce visited in the Art Colony, Provincetown, Mass. This three-hundred year old village marks the spot where the Pilgrims first touched land in America. The small old houses line two streets that run parallel to the sea. This small cod fishing village is visited each summer by artists and players.

Miss Blanche Dow visited in the French provinces of Canada. Much of her time was spent on the Gaspe Peninsula at the end of the Appalachian mountain range. This peninsula—on which Cartier landed in 1534, extends into the Gulf of St. Lawrence. The country is distinctly French. The people lead a simple life, friendly conversation being the chief form of recreation. The villagers are engaged almost entirely in fishing.

Each village has its Roman Catholic church which is usually built of stone. A shrine is located at every cross roads.

THE PRESIDENT SAYS

The Northwest Missourian represents the student body of the College which the State established and maintains at Maryville. It should express student opinion in its editorials, account for student activities in its news columns, and offer stimulation to the initiative of students who write for it. There is no finer group anywhere than the one which assembles weekly in the College Auditorium. Every issue of their paper, and every column of every issue should reflect credit upon the group. They should not permit thoughtless or heedless members of the student body to publish in their paper articles or editorials which would hurt them in the eyes of the people of this part of the state.

Believing they will not do so, student control in a larger measure than heretofore exercised will govern the Northwest Missourian this year.

The Missourian staff has an unusual opportunity. Its sponsor is a young woman, just out of college, fresh from the classroom where the theories of journalism are taught. Its consultant is a man long in practical newspaper service, with no collegiate training in journalism, but steeped in the knowledge which years of editing and publishing a newspaper brings. These two, woman and man, youth and experience, theory and practice, one having the student's and the other knowing the public's viewpoint, both with high ideals of what a paper should be, both with good judgment, eager to serve, anxious to help, should give the staff as good service as can be given in any college, other than in a school of journalism.

And that is why the College is glad to have Miss Millett and Mr. Hull connected with its paper.

UEL W. LAMKIN

Marriages

The summer brought news of several weddings of former students of the College. Miss Marian Tollaksen was married to Mr. Herman Fischer in the home of the bride's parents in Kansas City. Mrs. Fischer was a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha, social sorority, and took part in the May Festivals. Mr. Fischer was well known in athletics. He is now employed in the offices of the Southern Kansas Stage Lines in Kansas City.

The wedding of Estell Hunter to Mr. Norval Sayler took place in Clinton, Mo. They were married by candle light before an open fire. Mr. Clarence Woolsey, former student of the College, and now a student in the School of Law at the University of Missouri, acted as best man and Miss Violet Hunter, also a former student of the College, was her sister's only attendant. Sayler is the president of the Alumni Association for this year. He is employed as research assistant in the Physics department of the University of Iowa. Mr. and Mrs. Sayler left Wednesday, September 19, for

Iowa City where they will be at home in the Iowa City Apartments.

Miss Emma Ruth Bellows was married to Mr. Anderson Harris Jr. of Harris, Mo. on Sept. 1 at the home of her parents. Mrs. Harris was active on the campus last year, and was president-elect of Sigma Sigma Sigma, social sorority. Mr. and Mrs. Harris are living in Harris, Mo.

The wedding of Miss Betty Hickernell to Mr. Carl Leroy Fisher took place on June 2 in the home of the bride's parents. Both Mr. and Mrs. Fisher were well known on this campus. Mr. Fisher is teaching in Gallatin, where the couple are making their home.

Viola Johnson, who was in school at the College last year, is teaching fourth and fifth grades in the Farragut, Iowa schools this year. Her home is at Essex, Iowa.

The Northwest Missourian has come of age!

No birthday cake was cut, no bands played, no one wished the sheet a "happy birthday," and yet, only once in a lifetime does a paper have the opportunity of noting the twenty-first year of its advent upon the sea of life. Many changes, comparable to the changes transpiring in the growth of a boy from birth to voting age, have occurred.

Best Wishes to The Northwest Missourian, Vol. 21, No. 1!

Few players in the M. I. A. A. are more respected for their ability and attitude towards the game than the fighting Italian center from Hubbard, Ohio. Luke is 5 feet 10½ inches tall and weighs 170 pounds. He is twenty-two years of age and has 89 college hours to his credit.

He lettered in football his last three years in the Hubbard High School and captained the team his last. He also lettered in basketball. He has made two football letters with the Bearcats, and last year, despite a shoulder injury was named all-conference center.
